The Principal's Message

"Every good and excellent thing stands moment by moment on the razor edge of danger and must be fought for."—Thornton Wilder.

Certainly no discerning observer of the world of to-day would prophesy, much less guarantee, the unlimited continuation of peace and prosperity, security and comfort, harmony and ease through the life time of this year's graduates. Beauty and truth are equally threatened. Their survival is constantly in jeopardy.

Life has a way of putting society—each generation and every individual—to the test in the form of international conflict, economic crisis or moral decision.

Each must be prepared for his moment of truth. May your parents, your friends, your teachers and your own search for knowledge and understanding, prepare you to meet every challenge.

Memoirs From Our High School Year

This year has once again brought many proud moments to Forster Collegiate. Memorable events took place, events which many will look back on in future years and cherish.

The good display of sportsmanship shown by our Senior Boys' Basketball team, coached by Mr. B. Burleigh, helped prove what can be done by sincere co-operation and workmanship. Although they were not as successful as the previous year, we are no less proud of their achievements and look to them for great things next year.

The school spirit was very apparent this year. The senior students were well accompanied by the junior students in cheering at each game. Such a thing helps to bind the school into a friendly group of students who achieve more through a closer relationship. Our cheerleaders did much in rallying our enthusiasm and anxiety in our desire for our school's success among the other schools.

The drama club once again won full recognition for their splendid presentation of "Time Remembered", directed by Mr. Beattie. Everyone was entranced by the play and its elaborate settings and excellent lighting effects.

The band, directed by Mr. Gerenda, did no less in creating a proud memory for F.C.I. In two years the band has become a group of fine players, each player working separately to make the whole an excellent organization.

Each year the number of activities offers something for each student's interests. These activities give leadership and experience to the men and women of tomorrow. All these successes have been a product of the working together of more than two, three, or even more persons. The teachers have done much in this field of leadership. They have also contributed to our memories of learned knowledge and, at times, humorous fun. They have cultured a great part of our future life in more ways than we may often realize and we will surely be reminded of their teachings and sayings as we encounter the rest of the world.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all who contributed their time in helping to make this year's year-book possible—writers, artists, typists, ad sellers, and all those who did other numerous jobs. Special thanks go to Mrs. Gregorian who submitted much of her time to the book and to Mrs. Martin and Mr. Bygrove who all served in the capacity of advisors.

As the door closes on all this year, to many the last year, we of the Spartalogue staff sincerely hope that you will enjoy this, your book, and that it will serve to recall many memories of joy, happiness, and achievement not only now, but when you are past the years of youth and can look back to refresh your earlier days in your minds.

—Sally Persson, Editor.

New Teachers

Four new teachers joined the staff in September of this year.

Miss Jones who came to us from Kitchener-Waterloo Collegiate and Vocational School where she taught for one year was a welcome addition to our physical education staff. However, she is leaving us in June to be married. She will reside in Tuscon, Arizona, after her marriage.

Mrs. McIsaac came to us from St. Mary's Academy in South Windsor where she taught for five years. She will remain with us as an able instructress in mathematics and guidance.

Mr. Howe comes from England and teaches French, Latin, German and Vocal Music, all with an English accent. He is going to marry our very able secretary, Miss Vott, in August and we wish them the best of everything.

Mr. McAllister came to us from North Essex District High School where he taught for one year. He teaches English and History and Geography. He is also an alumnus of Assumption University of Windsor.

Commencement

On November 18th, 1961, Forster welcomed home its graduates for the annual Commencement exercises.

After the procession of graduates and award winners to the school song played by the band, Rev. J. H. Watt, Minister of Campbell Baptist Church, gave the invocation. Mr. H. J. Lassaline extended greetings from the Board of Education.

The program opened with the presentation of academic pins to all those who had achieved high scholastic standing during the past year. Miss M. E. McIntosh and Mr. C. W. Havelock presented pins to the following students: 13—Jim Silcox, Betty Matthews, Leisha Nazarewich, John Mitchell, Velta Baumanis; 12A—Henriette Zakon, Madeline Boyce, Katherine Tritjak, Brian Griffiths, Diana Bellringer; Special Commercial—Anne Elgar; 11A—Margaret Kemp, Mike Carr, Mary George, Bernice King; 11C1—Pat Desalliers; 11C2—Norine Sequin; 10A—Angela Hrachovi; 10B—Doug Fitzsimmons; 10C1—Carole Evans; 10D—Moya Hastings; 10E—Sue Jin; 10F—Cynthia Rose, Robin McNeil, June Brechkow; 9A—Leslie Wayne; 9B—Craig Billinghurst; 9C—Clare Kilpatrick; 9D—Revolone Bookman; 9E—Leigh Currie; 9F—Larry Peterson; 9G—Barbara Lovegrove, Edith Braendle, Carol Boyce; 9H—Geraldine Hallup, Don Kemp, Jane Fidridge; 9J—Stephen Bellringer.

Service pins were then presented to deserving students by Miss M. E. Weller and Mr. W. J. Ellis. Bill Jackson received his pin for his contribution in basketball. Ross Miell and John Armstrong both received pins for recognition of their contributions in the fields of cadets and drama. John's pin was also presented for service in football. Cheerleading service pins were awarded to Carlene Appleby and Patty Fredericks. Sally Persson received her pin for her faithful work on the Spartalogue. Mary Alice Rose received her pin for musical contributions as the pianist for the choir. Elaine Dockeray received her pin for her work on the library staff while Ray St. Onge received his for the Forster Forum and Lynda Mann for Christian Fellowship.

Mr. D. A. Mallender presented public speaking awards to Jim Silcox, Sandra Tobin, Leigh Currier, and Sandra Richards. Jim was also presented with an additional award for winning the city championships.

Under the direction of Mr. P. W. Howe, the Girls' Choir sang "Bells of the Sea" by Lamb-Solman, "Over the Rainbow" by Harburg-Arlen, and "Old Black Joe" by Foster. Mary Alice Rose accompanied on the piano.

Mr. D. Skoyles extended a warm welcome to the guest speaker of the evening, Mr. C. R. MacLeod, assistant Director of Education.

Mr. C. R. MacLeod spoke on "Sayings that Lead to Disaster".

The valedictorian address was given by Jim Silcox. His speech was very interesting to all.

To conclude the evening, refreshments were served in the cafeteria where a reunion was held for graduates and their friends and relatives.

Excerpts from Mr. MacLeod's Commencement Address

I should like to talk to you briefly about 3 sayings which I believe lead to disaster. The first one is, "EVERY-ONE IS DOING IT; I'M NOT GOING TO BE DIFFERENT."

The main tenet of religion and of democracy is that people are "individuals". Our fingerprints are but one evidence of our individuality. No one can live for us or die for us; no matter how tall our father may be we have to do our own growing. An employer once said, "Anytime I have two men who think alike I can do without one of them."

Man is the only creative species and his creative instrument is the human mind. John Steinbeck in his novel, "East of Eden", says, "Nothing was ever created by two men." "The group can improve something but not create it." A Whitney Griswold of Yale University says, "Could Hamlet have been written by a committee or the Mona Lisa painted by a club? Could the New Testament have been composed as a Conference Report? Creative ideas do not spring from groups. They spring from individuals. The divine spark leaps from the finger of God to the finger of Adam." So I say to you, "Everyone is doing it; I'm not going to be different", can only lead to disaster.

The second saying which I should like to discuss is, "THIS IS A FREE COUNTRY; I CAN DO WHAT I LIKE".

Charles Kingsley once wrote, "There are two freedoms—the false where a man is free to do what he likes and the true where a man is free to do what he ought".

We may enjoy privileges but only if we accept the accompanying responsibilities. This fact makes common sense and should be understood by any thinking individual but is not by those who say, "This is a free country; I can do what I like".

It was Patrick Henry who said, "Give me liberty or give me death". His descendants just say "gimmie".

The third saying to which I should like to refer is, "IT'S ALRIGHT IF YOU CAN GET AWAY WITH IT".

This statement is closely allied to the last one because it also involves discipline. Inherent also, however, is one's morality and sense of values. To many people right and wrong are relative. It's wrong to get caught for example. Yet right is right if nobody is right and wrong is wrong if everybody is wrong.

I would like to repeat Churchill's words used to encourage the English people during World War II. He said, "This is not the end, this is not even the beginning of the end. This is just the end of the beginning." So it is with you. It is just the end of the beginning of your education, of your opportunities, of your responsibilities and of your influence.

This country needs leaders not underlings and it is looking to you and saying,

These are the armies, rank on rank
On which our land depends.
These are the armies that we'll thank
If freedom never ends!
These are the armies, row on row,
We trust to guard our fates,
The schoolhouse army's endless flow
Of High School graduates.

Valedictory Address

"Good bye!" Technically that is all I am authorized to say. According to Latin, a Valedictorian is one who says "Good-bye". Whether we say anything more than this is not specifically stated, but I must admit that the temptation to say more is overwhelming.

Commencement is a combination of the end and the beginning and it is my job to separate the "Good byes" from the "Hellos".

For many of us it is a time to recall memories of the highly interesting moments of life of F. C. I. and then bid them farewell. We remember being the first class in Canada to give blood and to appear on television simultaneously. We remember the time we threw a whipped-cream pie into the audience during an assembly—quite by accident, of course. We recall washing windows for Miss Weller; flooding the school with hydrogen sulphide; staring at the crystal ball as it went crunching across the floor. We never will forget the thrill of welcoming our basketball team home after they had become champions for all Ontario.

To each there are personal memories. At this very moment Carol Wiley is saying "Good bye" to June 12, 1961. That was the day we wrote the final examination. It was English Literature. Fifteen minutes before exam time, a low mumble came from Carol's row. Like a spreading disease it swept across the room as all joined in bits and snatches of "Macbeth". Thirty-five students swaying to iambic pentameter rhythm and chanting in unison must have been nerve-wracking to the teacher who was trying to get everything ready so that we could start our examination on time.

Throughout five years, Mr. Steadman and Mr. Brown have worked for us and with us. Although we did not always see eye to eye on matters, we did learn that we could talk to them, present our problems and receive wise counsel. As a result, we can leave with a happy feeling and a fond memory of J. L. Forster C. I.

All that we may have accomplished would not have been possible without the untiring, sincere efforts of our teachers. Too often when the results come out in August, we are so busy congratulating each other that we forget to express our thanks to the teachers who directed us and guided us down the paths that lead to a successful conclusion of our efforts. From them we learned how to organize our work, how to study, how to make the maximum use of our time. If you have ever read a history text in a doctor's office or tried to learn poetry in a bath tub, you know what I mean. From them we learned that all was not drudgery. They opened the doors of knowledge. One of our teachers used to open the text and with a deep smile of satisfaction say 'Ah here is a good one' then chuckle as if there was far more to the question than what might first meet the eye. By the end of the year we were laughing too sometimes, and learning that education was satisfaction and power to live a fuller life.

This then is Commencement 1961. A time of "Good-byes" and "Hellos", yet we can never really say "Good-bye" but just farewell, because for five years Forster Collegiate was part of us. For five years we were part of Forster. Our Commencement then must be a threshold between the end and the beginning; the past and the future. Only then can we say as did Tennyson:

"I am a part of all that I have met;
Yet all experience is an arch wherethrough
Gleams that untraveller world whose margin fades
For ever and for ever when I move."

CONGRATULATIONS AND BEST WISHES MRS. AREL

It is with great sadness that the staff and students of Forster bid farewell to Mrs. Arel. During her many years at our school she has worked long and tirelessly and has in past years devoted much of her spare time to "The Spartalogue". Due to the high standards that she has set both for herself and her students her name will long be remembered.

United Nations' Trip

"I am a part of all that I have met;
Yet all experience is an arch wherethro'
Gleams that untravell'd world whose margin fades
For ever and for ever when I move."

My trip to the United Nations last fall sponsored by the Board of Education was indeed a new experience which broadened my horizon concerning our world.

A visitor cannot but help being caught up in the internationalism of the organization. In the council rooms we listened to debates in English, French, Russian, Spanish, and Chinese (not that we understood what was being said, but it was fun). French is essential in the Delegates Dining Room, if you want to know what you have just ordered for lunch. In the U.N. Gift Shop we purchased articles from many different lands—silk scarves from India, dolls from Japan, Poland, and France, pottery and carvings from many others. The U.N. even has its own stamps and post office.

The United Nations is a country much like any other, but it is composed of all races, creeds, and nationalities.

These peoples work together to maintain peace, security, and to develop friendly relations among nations. With such a high purpose they, of course, have problems which seem insurmountable, but the one hundred and three member-countries never lose sight of their goal.

Activity in the U.N. is diverse—everything from a fifty-megaton bomb just exploded by Russia to a covenant on marriage. Our meeting with the Canadian delegation was very informative. We learned of our country's functions in this international world capital, and of our pet project, a Food Bank.

The arch, the United Nations, opened a new broader world to me, something greater than the U.S. and the U.S.S.R. After seeing it in action I am left with hope and a prayer for the future of our United Nations.

TO THE UNITED NATIONS

Thou giant of steel and glass,
God is in thy frame
He fashioned thee through man
Through his faculties, through his resources.

In these troubled times
Man must have something
To work with, to pray with, to hope with.
Thy frame is the hope of nations
For unity, for love, for peace.

Thou towering statue
Gleaming in the setting sun,
Thou art like life—
In youth striving for peace
In the dark valley still for peace—
Peace is thy purpose, thy goal, thy hope.

Help me that I may work for peace;
Give me knowledge, truth, wisdom;
Let me teach co-operation, brotherhood.
The sun will set on my life,
But may it rise forever
Above thy lofty form,
Above a world united in peace.

—Nancy Lamb, 13A.

The Trip to Stratford

The trip to the Stratford Festival was one of the most outstanding events of the year.

The trip by train was highlighted by card playing, singing, sight-seeing (believe it or not), and just plain fun. When we finally arrived and had disembarked, everyone split up into groups to look over the town.

At 2.00 p.m. everyone assembled in the theatre, the first year skeptics ready to criticize and the veterans ready to applaud. The play "Henry VIII" was excellently done by the Stratford players. As the play progressed, the skeptics had joined the ranks of the veterans and found that the classic works of Shakespeare were for everyone.

After the play, everyone once again set out to have a final look at the festival grounds and then, one by one, drifted back to the train.

The trip home proved to be as exciting as the trip there. Upon our arrival home, we were all tired but eagerly looking forward to a next time.

—Jerry Dufresne.

Old Vic

This Spring the grade twelve and thirteen students had the pleasure of seeing the Shakespearean play "Macbeth". This was presented by the famous Old Vic players from London, England and was performed on the stage of the Masonic Temple in Detroit. The play lasted approximately two hours and was full of excitement and drama. The main highlights of the play occurred when Lady Macbeth presented her famous sleep-walking scene. The Banquet scene was also done well. Banquo's face truly appeared like a ghost who had just been murdered. Blood covered his face and hair. The prophecies of the apparitions, created a tense atmosphere as the apparitions slowly arose from the witches' cauldron and gave their lines in a mystifying way. After the performance five students had the pleasure of meeting the actors who portrayed Lady Macbeth and Macbeth. Every student that attended the performance was pleased with the play and felt that by seeing the play they received assistance for the June final in literature.

ROMA GLORIA

Vulcan's forge burned bright that night,
The sky rained thunder bolts,
The gods on great Olympus raged,
And Troy fell to the ground.

Ages passed in peace and calm,
The Olympus gods sat still,
But Ilium's race was greater yet,
On green Italian shores.

And then the cry rang out again,
The gods all "Havoc" cried,
The tribes 'gainst mighty armies marched,
And Rome her glory lost.

Eons passed as darkest night:
Great Rome forgotten lay,
Cattle grazed where once had stood
The glory of the Roman age.

But Rome now holds a nobler place,
The centre of a Christian world,
The ages of the gods have passed,
One God in glory reigns.

Ode to a Smashed Ash

To be Said While Staring Pensively at Daddy's Burning Cigarette.)

O dear little smashed ash,
I think that you're the greatest,
Though you fall into Dad's coffee cup,
You're still the very latest.

When Daddy flicks you on the floor,
Mother sweeps you out the door;
You'll never know what anger is
Until her broom begins to whiz,
All around Dad's head.

You know you cause the greatest trouble,
All around our house,
Because of you, my mother calls
My Dad a great big louse.

(His feelings are easily hurt.)

But someday little smashed ash
You'll leave our happy home
The wind will scatter you abroad
And Mom will leave my Dad alone.

(He won't be hit any more.)

But do not be discouraged
My dear little smashed ash,
For if you wish to die so soon,
Then I will smash you

BASH!!!

TELEPHONES

—submitted by Sue Riseborough

Alexander Graham Bell thought he was doing the human race a great favour by inventing the telephone. To those who would like to strangle him with the cord of his invention, I can only say, "To Err is Human; To Forgive, Divine." Remember this great saying when you are rudely awakened at three o'clock in the morning only to find that a wrong number has been dialed. Remember to control your temper and the fluent foreign language that may part your lips when the incessant ring of the telephone brings you from the most interesting television program that has ever interrupted a commercial. When the party on the other end of the line turns out to be the town gossip whom you have been avoiding, remember fondly the one who contributed this great invention to society.

Speaking of the town gossip, Father, do not be angry when teenage Tessa develops such an attraction for this instrument that not even John Wayne could distract her. Use your inexhaustible discretion and send a telegram to the person with whom you wish to confer. You might get better results.

On the other hand, however, the telephone really is not an exasperating invention for all those who come in contact with it. For instance, Mother sees it as something special when all she has to do is pick up the receiver and use the energy in her forefinger to have the weekly shopping delivered to her kitchen. This device allows her to play bridge with her other loquacious friends instead of battling those huge bags of groceries on the way home from the market. It gives her untold enjoyment during the long weary day to phone her neighbour and seek the information that she did not hear concerning the new couple down the street. Yes, the telephone is a great help in many ways.

Another way, for instance, would be the excitement it brings to a high school girl when her favourite fellow asks her for a date for the senior prom. Her enthusiasm bubbles into the receiver denoting her positive answer. Then the long involved conversations with her best girl friend buzz through the wires. What should she wear? Can she borrow Donna's new tiara? Is Nancy going? Up until the very hour of the big night, the gratifying instrument never ceases to be a help.

Yes, Alexander Graham Bell invented the telephone. Its use must have been known before it was completed, but Mr. Bell could never have known the many uses it is being put to to-day. The family competition has never been greater. The motto for this never ending race to use the telephone could be, "to strive, to seek, to find, but not to yield."

The Account

"Everything is quiet, not a peaceful quiet, not the quiet of sleep or even of death. It is the silence before the noise, the full before the storm. Yes, even the perpetual movement of the sea has ceased; no wind stirs the dust or moves upon the face of the waters as it did in the Beginning. The sun has continued to shrink but is glowing more fiercely with each minute that passes."

These few sentences were the beginning of the strangest diary or log in the history of man. I cannot say earth because earth no longer is. This account ended the history of earth.

Scientists knew that someday, some century, our sun would shrink and then explode in a fury and splendor that only fits the death of a star. The change was first noticed about the year 4018, when the ice caps receded more rapidly than ever before. Small lakes dried up; certain species of plant life withered and died. There was no such thing as winter as far north as the Yukon and the summers glazed in a shimmering Sahara-like heat. It was concluded that, as the sun shrank, it multiplied its energy. concentrated it, and that in a matter of years would burst and destroy itself in the greatest atomic explosion imaginable. Earth was among the nine planets and countless asteroids it would burn to nothingness.

Earth had been evacuated, a mass exodus of humanity had taken place and the population of earth was somewhere in another solar system. Bill Holiday had not gone. One man was needed to stay behind, to record the events, the changes in the earth, and just before destruction descended, to send the account of all this in a small rocket to the planet where man was setting up a new civilization. The rockets for this mass flight had left just enough material and fuel for one small vehicle. It was not big enough for a man, not big enough for Bill Holiday.

He had been writing for a year now, off and on, recording the changes as he had been directed, and now he was almost finished . . . "The heat is almost unbearable and it penetrates into my compartment; it must be like an inferno outside. My graphs show that the sea is only a few degrees below boiling point and the green earth is a parched, dry corpse, almost dead, and dying rapidly. A red haze is hanging over the land and through it I can see the sun, glowing with a merciless intensity, gathering the amassed strength of over four billion years, ready to die.

I myself do not regret that I am the last man on earth, nor am I afraid to die alone. I do not know if the rocket will ever reach you or that any man or living creature will ever find and read this account. The time is drawing close and I must rocket this book, my epitaph, the epitaph of earth, into the cold safety of space. I can only close with the few words that are now entering my mind, "Our Father, Who art in heaven . . ."

—Linda McLaughlin.

First Prize Short Story

THE VENDETTA OF C. RUSSELL JOHNSON

Ten years ago, C. Russell Johnson had been a handsome man with a friendly face—dark wavy hair, shining blue eyes, and a happy smile that showed sparkling white teeth. Similar to all former football stars, he had the physique that all girls admired—broad shoulders, muscular arms and legs, a slim waist and hips; he walked with a graceful stride.

Now, after those ten long years of being cut off from society, he was unrecognizable. No longer was he the friendly man with the beautiful build. He was ugly. A stern look of determination inhabiting that straightforward gaze replaced his long-forgotten smile. His receding hair was graying and long years of thinking and worry had etched prominent lines in his forehead. His lean shoulders sagged, bagging his gray tweed suit—the suit that had fit SO well ten years before.

Obviously, as he trudged along the track, Johnson was in deep thought. He did not see the streaks of lightning; he did not hear the thunder; he did not feel the drops of rain. The only thing he cared about at the moment was that small neatly-wrapped parcel bouncing under his arm as he proceeded—AND the time. Johnson looked at his watch—four-thirty.

Ten years ago, Johnson had been a very successful businessman; he had the larger, senior part of the Dillan Railroad Company. He had been a happy man—until his greedy brother had had him committed and claimed his share of the Company. Committed. Committed to an institution on what grounds? For owning the share of railroad that his brother wanted..

Johnson had not wasted as much as one minute of those ten dreadful years. No, time was extremely important to him. He glanced at his watch. Four-forty-five. Ten years of planned revenge was finally coming to its culmination.

Johnson smiled wickedly and patted the package under his arm as he caught sight of the trestle. He looked at his watch—four-forty-six. He had exactly fourteen minutes.

The train that was to cross that thestle was not an ordinary train that would be carrying ordinary people. It was a smaller train that would be carrying THE people—his brother and all the others that had schemed to get rid of him. As Johnson thought about how smart they had thought they were and how, in just fourteen minutes they were to be paid for teir cleverness, he burst out into grim laughter.

As he reached the foot of the trestle, Johnson glanced once again at his watch. It told him that he had ten minutes left. He advanced, and when he reached the middle, he stopped.

Johnson took the parcel out from under his arm and slowly examined it. He took another look at his watch, and because it said that he still had ten minutes, he decided to take his time. He smiled, took a deep breath and began to open the package.

Drops of rain fell on the cold metal casing of the object. Johnson again burst out into grim laughter at the thought that nothing could stop his plan now . . . now that he had triggered the mechanism and heard the metallic tick inside the casing.

Johnson began retracing his steps, perhaps a little hurried, because he had half a mile of track to cover before he reached safety. Just then, a rumbling sound, a vibration under his feet, and the unmistakable shriek of a train caused his heart to leap into his throat and his blood to run cold.

Glancing quickly behind him, he saw that the train was already onto the trestle and was bearing down on him and his work . . . the work he could not reach or stop. Blind panic seized him and he ran, stumbled, and ran again down the trestle. He stopped suddenly and jerked back his sleeve, staring bumbfoundedly at his watch. TEN MINUTES LEFT.

An instant before his evil plan burst with a blaze into stark reality, Johnson at least knew that his watch had stopped.

Several girls, under the capable leadership of Mrs. McCready and Mrs. Martin have worked at noon and after school as librarians in the past year.

During this year, the Dewey System of cataloguing books has been installed in the library, thanks to the work of Mrs. Markovich. This system greatly aids not only the librarians, but also the students who are now able to find more easily any book they require.

The librarians all enjoyed a "night off" in January when they attended the Canadian Ballet presentation of "Giselle" and "Offenbach in the Underworld."

All in all, this has been a very successful year for the library.

DRAMA NIGHT

This year's "Drama Night" was one of the best yet. The two evenings were highlighted by the presentation of "Time Remembered", a romantic comedy by Jean Anouilh. To recall the plot, an eccentric Duchess (Mary Alice Rose) tries to transform a common milliner (Jeannie Kulinski) into the "living image of Leocadia", the dead lover of Prince Albert Troubisoi. The Prince (Jake Jung) discovers his aunt's scheming and shows his disapproval of the impostor. All is not lost though, for the Prince and Amanda finally "come together", with the help of the Duchess, to provide a happy ending. Remember Hector, (Andy Arison) who is repeatedly interrupted by the Duchess? Remember Theophilus, the butler, (Lewis Couvillon) who "materializes" from thin air, and Ferninand, the head waiter, (Ray St. Onge) who spills the bottle of champagne, and the waiter, (Larry Vegh) who "mops him up"? How did you like the landlady (Lorraine Swinhoe) and her "two green devils", or Josephine, the ice-cream vendor, (Sharron Jenkins) with that hearty laugh of hers? What did you think of the three cute maids—Cynthia Rose, Many Ann Simon, and Karen Stocks, and the ghilly (Stewart Boyd) who "corroborates" Hector? Don't forget the taxi-driver (Steve Shaw) with his taxi full of "rabbit", and also the orchestra, (Angela Hrachovi, Sally and Sylvia Sinasac, Rachelle Zabolotony) with its "mock Viennese music".

Thanks to the cast, who made the play "come alive", and to the production staff, whose time and effort made the presentation possible and successful. On behalf of the cast, I would especially like to thank Mr. Beattie, our director and producer, who kept encouraging us to do better, and praised our best.

Special mention goes to the Forster choir which sang during intermission.

Thanks again, Mr. Beattie and Mr. Howe, for making this year's "Drama Night" "time remembered".

Everyone Loves a Concert

Everyone loves a concert and the 56 members of the Concert Band prove no exception. Under the able direction of Mr. Gerenda the band continued its excellent reputation in its second year. One of the hardest working and most energetic groups, the members are known to the student body primarily for their appearances at student assemblies, a Commencement Exercise, the Windsor Secondary School Music Festival, the J. L. Forster Cadet inspection and their Spring Concert which featured pianist Milan Crepp a guest soloist.

For the first time, a Grade 10 Instrumental Music Class was offered to qualifying students, who devoted four periods a week studying Theory of Music, Music Appreciation, and Technique and Performance.

Under the direction of Mr. P. Howe the Forster Choir devoted much time in giving their efforts and talents to a wide variety of events, among them: a Commencement Exercise, student assemblies, Drama night, and the Windsor Secondary School Music Festival. The group concluded their season with a colourful presentation at the Annual Spring Concert.

The Winter Whirl

On December 21, at 3.30 p.m., the daily tasks of reading, writing and arithmetic for the students of F.C.I. had come to a close for 1961. If any of them passed the school later in the evening, they would have seen the midnight oil burning as our avid Dance Committee under the able direction of Nadine Nazarwich and Mr. Dowding as Staff Advisor was busy decorating the auditorium for the Winter Whirl on December 27.

Jack Redmile designed and executed the decorations with the assistance of Vicki Charlton, Betty Lou Mann, Bob Dinsmore, Pat Demaris, Brian Griffiths, Kathy Tritjak, Dorothy Hazelwood, Henriette Zakon, Marilyn Ord, Janis Powers, Ann Teleban, Don McGennis, Larry Hyttenrauch, Nadine Nazarwich, Bob Warren, Peter Wiebe, Dick Thomas, Mike Williamson. All are to be congratulated on the very beautiful job.

After many hours of hard labour, the big evening finally arrived. Under a canopy of white and blue streamers, girls wearing lovely dresses and beautiful corsages and fellows with boutonnieres swayed rhythmically to the enchanting music of Bill Jones and his orchestra. Small twinkling beams of petite lights from a glass chandelier in the centre of the ceiling sprinkled stardust on the dancers as they glided smoothly over the dance floor. Pine trees at each of the pillars and as a backdrop for the orchestra added just the right touch of winter to the affair.

Mr. Steadman, Mr. and Ms. Ord, Miss McIntosh, Mr. Brown, and Mr. Heaton, our patrons, betrayed by the smiles on their faces that they too enjoyed the evening very much.

As the evening came to a close and the guests slowly moved toward the doors to make their ways home, one could not help feeling sorry that the evening had come to an end. I am sure that everyone, especially the Dance Committee who had worked so hard, were satisfied with the knowledge that this year's Winter Whirl had been a great success.

—Don McGennis, 13A.

The Saint Patrick's Day Dance

This year's dance, sponsored by the Spartalogue, took place on Friday, March 23. While a little late, those attending honored St. Patrick with plenty of blarney and shamrocks. The stage curtains were adorned with streamers, shamrocks and clay pipes, while Irish hats bedecked the auditorium walls. Those present were welcomed at the door with a green shamrock proclaiming, "A belated Happy St. Patrick's Day to ye".

The dance, taking place immediately after exams, allowed the students to relax after a strenuous week. The recently popular "twist" was demonstrated by the more agile, while the rest made valiant attempts before returning to "rock and roll".

The dance was a great success, particularly for the Spartalogue, which was greatly benefited. Our thanks to all those who helped their yearbook by turning out. The luck o' the Irish be with ye.

—Clare Kilpatrick.

Spring Swing

In a mystical setting of a Japanese garden, this year's Spring dance held on April 6, was an exotic evening of enchantment, and excitement. Complete with geisha girls, lotus ponds, and hanging Japanese lanterns, the dance was the social climax to the school year. It was the conclusion of several weeks of hard work and careful preparation on the part of the dance committee sponsored by Mr. Heaton, and the decorating committee headed by Janis Powers and Jack Redmile. The committees included as members, Vicki Charlton, Bob Dinsmore, Betty Lou Mann, Nadine Nazarewich, Ann Teleban, Carol Ann Mann, Pat Desmarais, Dave Griffiths, Judy Abrams, Betty Manchulenko, Jane Rutherford, Sharon Jenkins, Sally Persson, Don McGennis, Lynda McLaughlin, Jerry Schen, Pat Westbury, Ken Hind, Ron Dinsmore. The centre of the decorations was a huge Japanese Lantern encircled with black and yellow crepe paper and suspended high over the dancing couples. Beneath this lantern took place the conclusion of two weeks of hard, fun-filled campaigning, on the part of the senior classes, with the crowning of this year's Queen and King, Vicki Charleton and Bob Dinsmore. The crowning was performed by last year's King and Queen, Doug Brown and Janet Abbey. In the patron's corner were numerous members of our teaching staff including Mr. and Mrs. Steadman, Mr. and Mrs. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Mallender, Mr. and Mrs. Skoyles, Mr. and Mrs. Groover, Mr. and Mrs. Heaton, Miss McIntosh, Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins, Mr. and Mrs. Motruk, Mrs. Gregorian. Dancing to the music of Ray Douglas' orchestra were Bob Dinsmore and Betty-Lou Mann, Vicki Charlton and Jack Redmile, Don McGinnis and Sue Wilson, Brian Griffiths and Kathy Tritjak, Dick Thomas and Henriette Zakon, Nadine Nazarewich and Richard Meretsky, Doug Mitchell and Diana Bellringer, Larry Hyttenrauch and Mary Ann Simon, Bob Warren and Marilyn Ord, Dave Tucker and Jane Rutherford, Doug Brown and Sharron Talbot, Carol Ann Mann and Wally Robson, Ron Dinsmore and Judy Abrams, Jerry Schen and Sharron Jenkins, Ann Teleban and Ken Hind, and Nancy Shaw and Lonnie Smith.

It was agreed by all present that the second annual Spring Swing was a great success and more of such dances will be looked forward to with great expectation in the future.

—Diana Bellringer.

Awards Night

AWARDS ASSEMBLY

MERIT QUI LABORAT

On Friday, May 25, at 2:30 p.m. the Awards Assembly was held in the auditorium of our school. During this assembly tribute was paid to those receiving awards in several fields.

The assembly was opened with the school song which was sung by the students in accompaniment with the school band.

Mrs. McCready presented awards to those students who had spent two years doing work in the library. Students with two years experience in the Drama Club were also presented awards by Mr. Beattie. Choir members, band members, and Spartalogue members were also presented awards for two years of service. These awards were presented by Mr. Howe, Mr. Gerenda, and Mrs. Gregorian respectively.

School letters and stars were then presented to students with fifteen points, twenty-five points, or more in athletics. The girls' awards were presented by Miss Royce and the boys' awards were presented by Mr. Groover.

Katherine Tritjak, president of the Ecclesia, made a speech in which she paid honour to Mrs. Arel on behalf of the student body. Mrs. Arel is leaving Forster. She spent sixteen of her eighteen years of teaching at our school. Vicki Charlton presented her with a gift from the student body and Mrs. Arel was also given a lovely yellow corsage. Mrs. Arel gave an enthusiastic speech to her audience.

Mr. Steadman, our principal, spoke the closing words at this, our last assembly. The band then played God Save the Queen.

After the assembly, dancing took place in Forster's auditorium. Numerous students were present. At the end of the dance, students dispersed, many perhaps thinking of the achievements that will once again be accomplished by Forster Collegiate next year and in many forthcoming years.

Ecclesia

This year's Student Council was ably assisted by Mrs. Sparling and Mr. Brown. The executive, for the first half of the year, was as follows: President, Brian Griffiths; Vice-President, Kathy Tritjak; Secretary, Vicki Charlton; Treasurer, Dave Griffiths. In January elections were held again and the positions were filled respectively by Kathy Tritjak, Ann Teleban, Diane Slote, Mike Williamson. Early in the year, the Ecclesia sponsored several record hops which were highly successful, and the money helped greatly. It went to the band for instruments and to the Spartalogue to aid in the job of printing a good yearbook. The Dance Committee must also be congratulated on the fine job it did in arranging the Winter Whirl and Spring Swing. This was headed by Nadine Nazarewich and Vicki Charlton. Finally, the student body is to be congratulated for the way in which it participated in school functions and helped to make them a success.

—Brian Griffiths.

Forster Forum

This year, the Forster Forum grew to a record-breaking membership number of nineteen. Evidently, this year's dozen new members had heard about this group's discussions, and lively meetings and wished to be a part of it. Under the guidance of Mr. Price, the first two meetings were held at Kathy Tritjak's house and the two opening topics of the year were "Nuclear Disarmament" and "Censorship" respectively. The third meeting was actually a Christmas party at Mr. Mallender's home, where several hours were spent playing "clue", talking, and having fun. The fourth meeting, at Nancy Lamb's house, saw the topic "Trade With Cuba?" debated. Larry Hyttenrauch lent his home to the Forster Forum for the fourth meeting which concerned itself with a wide topic, "Civil Defense and Nuclear War."

All the topics under discussion were serious and thought-provoking. Everyone contributed at least one idea to each discussion. Many of us learned for the first time how censorship acts in Ontario and other places, what the true story behind the Cuban Invasion was, and what plans are being made for each local militia in case of nuclear attack.

The Forster Forum represents a group of young people who meticulously look at a problem from every possible angle and side in the hope of formulating a logical answer to a great question. This discussion group has aided its members greatly by showing them how easy it is to express oneself. Thus this year's Forster Forum was successful in many ways—new members, logical thinking, worthwhile topics, and careful guidance.

School Spirit

School Spirit Committee needs congratulations for keeping alive the spirit of the school throughout the sporting year. They decorated the bulletin boards with many colourful posters and promoted their ambitions in the classrooms. Pep rallies were held each Friday to create more enthusiasm from the student body. Forster's gymnasium was draped with crepe paper containing school colors and many letters indicating the name of our school. Under the able guidance of Dave Butler and Sharon Jenkins, the school spirit committee performed great things for our old Alma Mater during the 61-62 school year.

This year I.S.C.F. started as a very small group. However, the group has grown. We still haven't reached a peak in attendance but we have ten regulars now.

In the beginning of the year, we planned an assembly and had Bernie Smith who spoke about I.S.C.F. which is interdenominational.

Our meetings were varied and included speakers, discussions, quizzes and a "meeting in a bag". We also did some work on the annual program which is provided for us.

The exective was composed of Phil Turner—president, Linda Fraser—vice-president, and Nancy Lamp—secretary. Our sponsor was Mr. Williams.

I feel we had a good year but we look for an increase in attendance next year. Won't you come and meet with us?

—Linda Fraser, 12.

Chess Club

This year Forster has a considerable number of potentially good chess players. In addition to myself from grade XIII, there were Dwight Yellowage and Henriette Zakon. Other outstanding players from other classes included Erhardt Weikert, Walter Zubrycky, Bill Johnson and George Manchulenko. It would be impracticable to name all those who showed an interest, but thanks must be given to Mr. Heaton who supplied the room for the club.

The chess club's events included a tournament within the school which drew twelve participants. The results will not be available in time for this publication. Another event was a match against Herman. Although we lost this match 4-2, it is hoped that such events will encourage the playing of chess among the Windsor Secondary Schools.

It is my belief that chess playing stimulates the mind to intellectual appreciation and logical thinking. It is for these, among other reasons, that I would encourage the greater promotion of chess on the Secondary School level; its encouragement on the primary school level might also be thusly justified.

—Raymond St. Onge, 13B.

Public Speaking

Congratulations are to be given to all those students who entered the school's Public Speaking Contests. All did extremely well.

Thanks are to be given to four wonderful coaches—Miss Story, Mrs. Sparling, Mr. Jenkins and Mr. McAllister. Special thanks go to Mr. Techko. All students appreciated the time-consuming help of these coaches.

In the Junior Girls' division, Revelone Bookman carried off first prize. Her prepared address was "Dougas Bater". Jean Kulinski won second prize.

In the Junior Boys division Donny Hazelwood, speaking about "Abraham Lincoln" won first prize. Second place winner was Tom Silcox. Don also won the West-Windsor Contest. This contest took place in the library of our own J. L. Forster Collegiate Institute. Donny all are proud of you!

In the Senior Girls' division first place winner was Susan Richard. Her prepared address was "Gossip" and her impromptu topic was "A Great Woman". Tied for second were Joanne Jenkins and Janet Baker. Susan won the West-Windsor contest as well as the school contest. This city contest was held in the auditorium of Patterson Collegiate.

In the Senior Boys' division, Robin McNeil won first prize. His prepared address was "Yoga" and his impromptu was entitled "Canada's Future". Second place winner was Gary Sowpel.

Special congratulations go to Joanne Jenkins who has won or placed in several other public speaking contests in the school and in the city. Joanne has entered every contest possible since coming to Forster, and she is bringing honourable mention to our school through this acquired talent.

Thanks to the never ending faith of our cheerleaders in the teams they supported, Forster has seen its best school spirit year in some time. With the efficiency of Elsie Tatoui, their captain, they created enthusiasm throughout the year by making up new cheers and by being present at each and every game. Assemblies were livened up by their presence. Thanks again!

Senior Girls' Volleyball

The senior Girls' volleyball team made a fine showing against some pretty stiff competition and displayed great improvement of the teams of the past few years.

Getting into condition was perhaps the hardest thing to do. It was hard on the girls, harder on Miss Royce, almost exhausted the supply of adhesive tape, and was extremely severe on Jeanine Jane's knees. Although not always on their feet, certain members of the team managed to keep on their toes, (Judy Belcher).

A great deal of the credit goes to Miss Royce who worked twice as hard as anyone else in molding the team into a well-operating unit. As a result of the combined efforts of coach and team the girls finished the year in fifth place.

—Linda McLaughlin.

Junior Girls' Volleyball

The Junior Girls' volleyball team tried very hard to express their ability in every game they played. The competition often seemed unbelievably tough, but they always put up a good fight. They kept their spirits up and unfortunately managed to keep their score down.

Many nights were spent in practise and receiving bruises but the members left school very enthused about the approaching week's game.

Credit has to be given to Miss Jones who, though once in a while was late, strived to get the team to perfection. As a result of the efforts on the part of the coach, the captain, which is Cherlene Thrasher, and the team, the members have a taste of what to look forward to in the future year.

—Ann Shinkar.

Boys' Volleyball Team

This year, as in previous years, the boys' volleyball team turned out to be "always the bridesmaid, but never the bride". This year's team was very successful finishing the season with only two losses to Herman and Walkerville. Advancing into the semi-finals against Herman, the boys put forth a tremendous effort, almost giving the Herman squad heart-failure, but finally bowed out in the third game of the best-of-three game series. The team this year consisted of Jerry Schen, Doug Brown, Dick Thomas, Doug Cowan, Bob Warren, Cliff McBride and Doug Brown. Also, a strong reserve force of Doug Lock, Jerry Kopcheck, Wendell Currier, Rick Chabot, Ken Borthwick backed up the regulars and will probably see a lot of action next year. In all, the volleyball season was very successful and bigger and better things can be expected in years to come. —Bob Warren.

Senior Boys' Basketball

Although the defending Ontario Basketball Champions, the Spartans, were unable to defend their championship, they went through the basketball season with a mediocre record of seven wins and eight losses. Discouraged by minute losses to Corpus Christi and Patterson, the team did show flashes of brilliance against Lowe Tech and Walkerville.

This year's starting lineup consisted of three veterans and two freshmen. They included Doug Cowan, Doug Brown Sr., Gary McDonald, Jerry Schen and Jorn Iverson. They were ably backed up by Jim Mills, Ray Harris, Kingsley Irvin, Jim Cole, Doug Brown Jr. and Danny Farslow. The man behind the oranges and cresin was "Reliable Ron Dinsmore". Of course we were very ably coached by Mr. Burleigh.

The prospects for next year are very bright. The team should have a veteran packed lineup with lots of fight. Therefore look to the Forster Spartans next year for a veritable powerhouse.

—Jerry Schen.

Junior Boys' Basketball

Forster's Junior Boy's Basketball team again showed it had plenty of get-up and go, as do all Forster teams.

Under the able coaching of Mr. Groover, the Spartans pulled out of the season surprisingly well.

We were hindered when Les Wayne (co-captain) and Robby Bond collided; this took them out of play for a while. When Larry Clarke broke his ankle, we lost one of our better rebounders.

The two-year men, Robin McNeil (captain) and Ron Doidge, aided the team with their rebounding and shooting skills. Skip Graham, Dave Meyers, Bob Noble and Mike Allan backed up the team. The bench strength of Carl Delmore, Bob Belanger, Ralph Kepran and Dave McQuinney rounded out the year's squad.

Next year look for bigger and better achievements from the Junior Boys Basketball team.

—Ralph Kepran.

Midget Basketball

Practices for the team begin at seven-thirty in the morning. They start out with random shots at the basket and sometimes the coach, Mr. Tecko, has the team split up and have a game. Since they are all greatly skilled with these morning practices, the scores of these games are generally low but there are a few exceptions now and again. Mr. Tecko gives the players encouragement when it is needed to help their spirits. The games played are fast and exciting in the morning and are such in the evening on Friday that they have still roused enthusiasm. After the games are played in the morning, there follow a few exercises and skills. I think the Midget Basketball Team for Forster for the 1961-62 season will improve in the coming years.

—Brian Rountree.

Forster's girls' basketball team did well this year, even though it was hampered by lack of experience. Under the guidance of our coach, Miss Jones, we practised hard and did surprisingly well by standing in third place after the fourth game in which we defeated Walkerville. We did not learn how to fight until this game and when it was over, we felt that our chances were greater for securing a berth in the play-offs. Unfortunately, Corpus Christi tied with us for the fourth position and after defeating them in the regular season, we lost to them for the deciding berth. Next year we hope that with more experience behind us we will be able to bring the championship back to F.C.I.

The team would like to extend its appreciation and thanks to Miss Jones who we think is a great coach and who did a grand job with the first year material with which she had to work. We would like to thank her for the party she gave in our honour and also to thank her fiancé for his gift of lovely basketball charms which we will always treasure.

Thank you Miss Jones!

—Colleen Sweeney.

Girls' Swimming Teams

Forster may be very proud of its swimming teams this year. Unlike previous years, the preliminary races placed at least one Forsterite in each final event, this being a great accomplishment since each final event holds only six swimmers.

The Juniors did well, placing fifth in the overall total. In this group were Diane Wogan, who came second in Butterfly and third in diving, and Mary Steele, who was second in Back Stroke. The 100 yard medley relay placed third while the 100 yard free-style relay came in fifth.

The Seniors, even with so few swimmers, tied for 3rd place in the city. Heather Campbell placed 4th in the style while Marilyn Ord came 3rd in Back Stroke. The two hundred yard relay, made up at the last minute, took 3rd place. In the mixed Lynne Trophy relay, made up of both Seniors and Juniors, Forster placed 4th.

The girls would like to thank their manager, Linda McLaughlin, and especially their coach, Miss Royce, for their help at this time.

CADET CORPS

This year, Forster's boys again lined up on the back campus in order to take part in the Annual Cadet Inspection. Under the able direction of Mr. Mallendar, this year's inspection was very successful and was said to be our best in many years.

The inspection was not a spontaneous event; many weeks of preparation and practice were put in. The last few weeks saw the cadet corps practising on the back campus every day that the weather permitted. Many P.E. periods were also spent in trying to improve upon the drilling abilities of the boys.

Thanks also go to Mr. Gerenda and the members of his band. Under Cadet Band Major Brian Horstead they practised diligently every day and their presentation helped to make the inspection a success.

Since Christmas another group practised—the Officer's Corps. It was headed by Cadet/Lt. Col. Larry Hyttenrauch, Cdt./Major Richard Thomas, Cdt./Major Bob Warren and Mr. Mallendar. Consisting of thirty-five, they practised every Tuesday after school and also instructed in drill during P.E. classes.

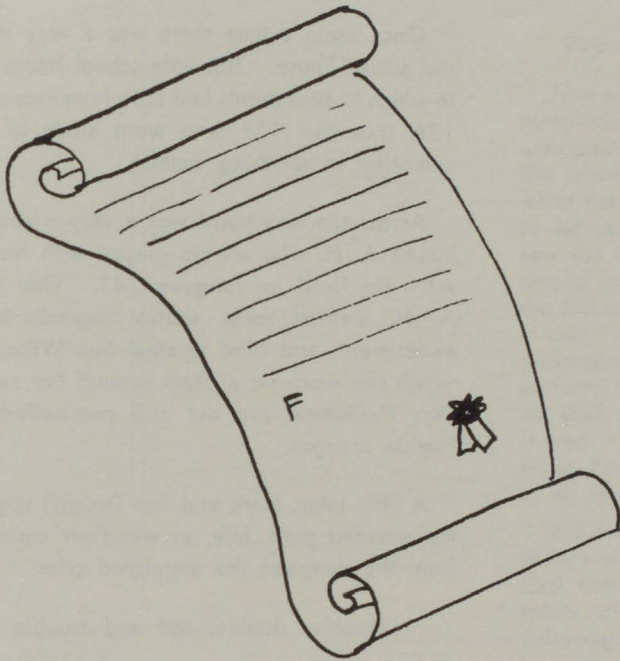

Thanks are also extended to Mr. Silcox, who headed the Quartermaster Stores and to Mr. Groover and his First Aid team.

For the first time in many years, the day of the inspection was bright and warm. This helped to arouse the morale of the boys. The inspection was carried out with fair precision and everything went as scheduled, except for the few small visitors who were daintily helped away by Gary Sowpel.

Congratulations go to Bob Warren, Bob Lechman, Bob VanMastrigt who received individual awards. Bob Warren's scholarship of $250.00 from Branch 143 of the Canadian Legion will be helpful towards his further education.

—Cadet Capt. Jerry Dufresne.

13A Class News

Once upon a time there was a very little, very faded, red school house. This little school house had a new wing in which its best pupils had their home-rooms, but especially 13A (not like 13B who were stuck in the old section unworthy of anything better).

Across the way there was a very wicked witch with the initials A. H. who always played with his home chemistry set. He lived in dungeon 243. One day, the wicked A. H. wanted some special ingredients for his latest experiment, and tried to steal Sue Wilson's wisdom teeth which she wore on a chain around her neck. Fortunately Don McGuiness ran out and pummelled the witch with Florida oranges.

A little later, Mark and Sue Dougall skipped gaily along the wooded path, late, as was their custom. They heard from the dungeon the anguished cries:

"Double, double, toil and trouble

Round about the cauldron go

In the poisoned entrails throw

Cloutier's arm and leg of Lamb

Elsie's wild socks and Euphemia's Brando."

In the dim light they saw Madeline and Traudi throw their pick-up sticks in the pot, and the Three Musketeers (Sharon, Marg, and Roberta) sacrifice their riding habits from Miss Mallendera's School on Snob Hill. Our two late-comers rushed to their fairy god-mother who lived in castle 247 on the hill. (She was really high.) She had just sent Rivard to the cleaners and was munching on a "Hazel" nut when in rushed "les deux gamins".

"Help!" they cried.

"Sacrebleu!" replied she.

And to the dungeon they rushed. Just then a handsome prince appeared, who spoke French with a very bad accent.

"Prince Robert!" she cried, "the witch is burning Sandi Lee's T.V. contract.

"Moi pécaire! Allons!"

He rushed into the dungeon and delivered the witch a stunning blow with one of Nadine's five-pound bracelets.

Immediately the hex was broken, and from the steaming cauldron, the beautiful Princess Vicki arose. The fairy godmother waved her wand and the princess rode away in a "Hearse" over the "Dew".

—P.S. They all lived happily ever after.

13B Class News

Reporters: Katherine Tritjak, Mike Williamson

June's peeking around the corner signifies for many the completion of a five year old dream in which we have been anticipating and envisioning the future and what it will be like when we decide to step into the great world (or rather when the people in Toronto, clenching our $5 bills, decide to let us go forward). As Conrad in his novel, "Youth" saw the East, so have we seen our "East"—the wild and woolly grade thirteen. We have almost passed through the turbulent precarious demanding channels of this grade in our "little boats" powered by the oars of hard work, endurance, and co-operation. Soon, for most, the drudgery endured will vanish and instead we shall forever see and we shall forever cherish the fun and enjoyments which we shared. Everyone of us has played his part in strengthening Forster's heartbeat through enthusiastic participation in all sports in the Student Council, and in all classes.

We shall never forget Doug Brown and Doug Cowan's valiant efforts in basketball, cheered on by 12B's Marilyn Ord and Diana Bellringer; nor will the undying fighting spirits of Wayne Dragomir, Joe Cohoon, and Dwight Yellowage for F.C.I.'s football team be soon forgotten. Merle Leacock as "Secret Agent, Natasha", Peter Wiebe and Charles Kamen as "the fearless badminton stars" will long be remembered similarly. Dick Thomas will make his mark as the only other fellow besides Alan Sweetman who could ask enough questions in Trig class to slow down Mr. Gessell's emphatic delivery of the "New Lesson".

Each year has its usual awards such as the "Nobel Peace Prize". This year, the "Mad Chemist Awards" go to Bob Dinsmore, Pat Desmarais, Larry Cotter and Bernard Dupuis "Bernie the Boomer". The "Sparkling Window Award" goes to Miss Weller's Latin window-washing team consisting of Mike "Mascara Kid" Williamson, "Romeo" Derek Bode, "Sir" Frederick Perry and Bob Lechman. (Did Bob take up Latin as a result of javelin hurling; or javelin hurling as a result of Latin?) The "Golden Soap Box Award" goes to Sue Wilson, Henriette Zakon, and Marjory Ollett for their dramatic rendition of the three witches in Macbeth under the artistic leadership of Monsieur Jack Redmile. The "Arguing" or "Debator's" Awards go to Ray St. Onge and Miss McIntosh. "Famous Words Award" is to be presented to Bob Wilson in view of his "In by four and out by nine" words. The "Best Dressed Girl" (or is it "Boy") Awards go to Bob Warren and Larry Hyttenrauch who recently went to a military ball clad in kilts and much to their surprise were asked by two other boys if they had forgotten their corsages at home. Combination "Fabian and Caddy Award" was won by Tom Zybala. "The Forgotten Torch Singer's Award" goes to Kathy Tritjak and "Liberace's Golden Candelabra Award" goes to none other than Brian "Biscuits" Griffiths.

Thus with famous quotations such as "Great Scott!" "Any silly, old goose knows that!" "This Algebra class is still too big!" "Well, this mechanical drawing of a parabola is a little rough." "I hate doing experiments with this class!" and "Bernie, it's not healthy to chew gum in my class!" ringing in our ears we prepare to leave Forster on many diverging paths. This year has been a wonderful year—full of fun, friendship, co-operation, petty arguments and HARD WORK. We will be sad to leave our friends and may wish to turn back, but our eyes will always look forward to that misty crimson future, wondering, questioning, but at times we will close our eyes to the future and relive "those wonderful high school days".

12A Class News

12A

Class Reporters: Bill Karlechuk, Ken Randall

Favourite Sayings:

Sue Richard: I'd like to argue a few points.
 Ken Randall: Well, here I am you lucky students.
 Mr. Heaton: Thou shalt not use water.
 Mr. Skoyles: Well, back to Grade 9.

Future Occupations:

Ann Teleban: Head tomato at Heinz (Hind's).
 Don Sims: Pin-ball machine repairman.
 Marlene Le Blanc: Driver Education Instructor.
 Ann Ferber: Starting World War III.
 Sue Riseborough: Working on "Old McDonald's farm".
 Linda Poltz: Lecturer on accident prevention.
 Mary Alice Rose: Playing Tugboat Annie on T.V.
 Heather Campbell: Cheerleader for Puce High.
 Shirley Szarka: Cook in an Italian restaurant.
 Pam Schooley: living with Pygmies in Africa.
 Bev Karpiuk: Drawing 184 degree triangles.

Can You Imagine:

Pat Westbury understanding Algebra?
 Janet Baker not arguing with Mr. Heaton?
 Don Sims flunking Chemistry?
 Pat Bury hating Corvettes?
 Wayne Staples driving a 1939 Buick?
 Margaret Kemp not giggling?
 Pat Yellowage drawing cartoons for Sally Persson's newspaper?
 Linda McLaughlin denouncing Ireland.
 Doug Lynds driving a 1962 Dodge?

Jokes:

Dorothy: Ask me if I'm the Lone Ranger.
 Conny: Are you the Lone Ranger?
 Dorothy: No.
 Sharron Stephens: How's your father doing in the Army?
 Doris Miell: Oh, fine. He's reached the grade of AWOL and next they're going to make him a court martial.
 Bernice King: What book are you reading?
 Marlene Leblanc: It's called "What Millions of Men Want".
 Bernice: Did they spell my name correctly?
 Mary Ann Simon: I came down here to Florida for the winter.
 Sheila Muir: Sorry to disappoint you, but there is no winter here.
 Betty: All I want for breakfast is a quart of whisky, a pound of steak and my hound dog.
 Bev: What do you want the dog for?
 Betty: To eat the steak.
 Mary George: What is a "specimen"?
 Bernice Telek: An Italian astronaut.

Overheard:

Miss Weller: Bill, will you translate "I wish", please?
 Bill: Into Latin?
 Miss McIntosh: The suffix "orium" may also be spelled "arium". Sometimes you see a city bus going by that says "Sanatorium". A few minutes later you see another one that says . . .
 Anna Ferber: Tec-Drouillard.

12B Class News

This Spare is Dedicated to You

"MR. BURLEIGH"

On behalf of 12B. We wish to thank you for a wonderful year. We are sorry to see you leave but we trust you will have continued success in the future!

12E Class News

"Bonjour mes eleves" . . . so begins a usual Monday morning with 12E. Pat Gilliard is telling Susan Delmore about her exciting week-end learning to do the "Mashed Potatoes". Jackie Challans is conversing with lanky Gary MacDonald about the three feet of mud he had to drive through to get to her "maison" to help her "etudier".

"Mes eleves, s'il vous plait" dit Monsieur Freeman, le pauvre homme.

Sandra Hickey and Sandra Thompson are vividly describing to Bill Garret's F(r)iend how to pass history without trying.

The last of the big spenders, no other than Gerald Schen, ducks under the door sill and enters the room. One look tells us that the "rat pack", Dave Griffiths, Gary Sowpel, Bill Jackson, Ray Harris and Wendell Currie, had a swinging but tring affair and Sowpel went home "man with the money" again!

The "Queen" plays and so starts another rompin' week with 12E.

The Day Will Come When:

- Ray Kenny: doesn't sign in, in Algebra.
 Mike Mandzuk: doesn't have his Algebra done.
 Brian Brookbanks: will make a perfect dog-shot in basketball.
 Larry Boyce: will kill a rabbit on the run.

- Dave Flett: will be playing with his dinky toys.
 Sue Weston: will get a date with the Miller's son.
 Merle Leacock: will stop talking back to Mr. Techko in a Russian accent.
 Harold Burke: will fall off a red pick-up truck and kill himself.
 Ken Borthwick: will become a great Shakespearean actor.
 Leslie Coomber: will become a guitar-strummin' singer.
 Marjorie Doughty: will break a date with the saxophone player.
 12E would like to extend their congratulations to all their teachers, especially Mr. Freeman.

Also:

- Betty Lou Mann for her active part in school spirit—cheerleader.
 12E's Girls' Volleyball Team captained by Ann Butler.
 Gary McDonald and all city star Jerry Schen for their part on our Boys' Basketball Team.
 Gary Sowpel and David Griffiths for partaking in the Public Speaking Contest.
 Linda Fraser and Ann Butler for their spots on the Sr. Girls' Basketball team.
 12E contributed $3.08 to the Spartalogue.

—Ann Butler, Gary McDonald, Jackie Challans.

11E Has a Swinging Class This Year

There is a top notch rifle team with members Bill, Rick, Richard and Jorn. The Dunkers for the boys this year are Richard, Rick, Jorn, Art, Bob D. and Robbie. For the girls there are Linda, Judy, Sandy, Sharron, Anne, Pat, and Margie. Hot prospects for the track team are Robbie, Ron and Rick, Ruth, Judy and Sharron. Let's not forget the Drama Club, represented by Rick and the band by Wayne. The girls and boys Athletic Associations are represented by Rick and Sandy. Judy Belcher and Jorn are on the Senior Girls' and Boys' Basketball teams respectively. Ruth Anne and Joanne are the class canaries. Our thanks go out to Jill for designing the class ad. Many thanks to Mrs. Liddell for putting up with us all year.

This Magnificent Class of 11E

Is a swinging group, it is plain to see
 If one is in trouble, another comes through
 With a perfect excuse that proves we're "true-blue"
 In a class such as ours it is hard to be sad,
 'Cause something is always happening to make us feel glad.
 The pranks are usually good intentions
 But somehow turn out to be detentions.
 Some teachers most often leave us behind
 And this is an act that is truly unkind.
 All those among us are very proud to be Part of this class—11E!

BESUCHER (ZUR HAUSFRAU): "IHREN SOHN

10A

Reporter: Clare Kilpatrick:

Guten Tag, friends! The big news of the year for 10A is the fact that we are the first students at Forster, (Lucinda says "The last") to study German. Mr. Howe, our Herr Lehrerchen, (Herr Fuhrer, according to Les) attempted valiantly to teach us the fundamentals (Ha!, from Glen) of this language. His success will be evident years from now when we find ourselves with important positions as U.N. interpreters. If nothing else, we can at least claim "something" in common with Hitler.

Aside from German, we found time for other studies. First period each morning, we marched alertly (though Ilona says "Chilled to the bone" because of the teacher's mania for fresh air) into our homeroom where Miss Story taught us the all important subject, English. We learned not to use "ain't", that Caesar was a Roman who was stabbel twenty-three (or was it thirty-one?) times by some other Romans, and that a participle is a word that is part verb and part adjective. We asked intelligent questions concerning these facts, (e.g. "Why aint's 'ain't' a word?" "Did Caesar really die?" and "Why can't the participle make up its mind?")

From our other teachers, we learned other equally useful information. A sample of this information appears below.

Mr. Heaton: "Now, don't be simple."

Mr. Renaud: "E.g.—You know, short for egg."

Mr. Freeman: "What is this?—Fractured French?"

Mr. Howe: "We'll have 'Les' talking." (Isn't he always?)

Or class was made up of such unforgettable personages as:

Mitch (Killer) Le Fave.

Stephen Bellringer: He learned more in the hospital than the rest of the class at school.

Revelone Bookman: Our own public orator.

Lewis (Theophilus) Couvillon.

and many other mad-cap characters.

Remember, this is 10A.

Yea 10, Yea A, Yea, Yea, 10A.

COMPLIMENTS OF

10B

Class Reporter: Sandy Lore

From the girls and boys of 10B
This our poem is brought with glee.
We have Don Poole and little Kay
Who sleep through classes every day.
There's Veronica and Leota who always chat,
They never work; they chew the fat.
Bonnie Williams, she's no fool,
She spends her time skipping school.
Don Bury who can really run,
And Tom who's glad when Friday comes.
Sandy Lore who's seldom quiet,
Les Muir, who is a riot.
Both Gord and Richard have lots of fun

Keeping Janis on the run.

Sandy Jamieson, now here's a lass

Who really has a lot of class.

Evelyn Kress is quite a gal

Who really makes an A-1 pal.

Nancy Goldspink can claim some fame,

On the basketball floor she plays a great game.

From Blair Allan we get lots of wit,

With our class, she's made quite a hit.

Jill Sloan, a charming lass,

Is sweet and nice and bound to pass.

Liz and Carole in their charming ways

Have brightened many very dull days.

Could You Imagine:

Bill Lloyd without his stubborn streak?

Sandra Shinkar not dreaming about Wayne?

Pinkas not putting up his hand to answer a question?

Nancy Evans talking in class?

Jim Doiron at school every day of the week?

Doug ever forgetting the future tense in Latin?

Favourite Sayings:

Dave Horton: No! No! You're doing it all wrong!

John Breeze: Ah, gee whiz!

Jim Myles: I didn't do it.

Joanne Marn: Don't worry about your hair girls—get out there and play basketball.

Wayne Conroy: I don't understand.

10C2 Class News

We could go on forever but we are kinda proud to say that we won interform volley-ball championship and are on our way to take the basketball championship also.

Congratulations to all the girls in 10C2 who participated in all interform games.

We would also like to thank Chris Pilon, class representative; Lily Mathieson, ticket seller who pockets all the money; also Carol Scane, our Athletic Representative, for the wonderful job they're done.

Chris: My dates are just pouring in.

Lily: So are mine, drip by drip.

Charlene: I wish I could go to college.

Darlene: What's stopping you?

Charlene: High School.

Carol: I spent ten hours over my history book last night; it fell under my bed.

Kathy Charrette: My mother thought I was expelled.

Vicky Durham: Why?

Kathy: Because I brought some books home.

Geraldine: What is it like to be in love?

Sharon: Love is a feeling you feel when you feel that you are going to have a feeling that you never felt before.

Jo-Ann and Mary—top typists.

Maureen—outstanding in the hall in Science.

Sharon H.—highest percentage in the class.

Colleen—needs a little from the voice box.

AL ROSS and the gang of

10F

Watch the excitement each day
from 9:10 to 10:50 a.m.

Miss Ross—We haven't repeated this too many times. Only a hundred.
Mr. Burleigh—I predict this person will fail Geometry.
Mr. Havelock—Your notes are due to-day. You will receive no marks if not handed in.
Miss Story—Paul, where is your Caesar?
Mrs. Langmaid—Report at 3:30 to me.
Dudley Paulton—Do that trick again. Open your mouth and make your head disappear.
Tom Lucier—As an outsider, what do you think of the human race?
Doris—Oh, Ralphie.
Ralph—Oh Doris.
Ray McNally—How you was?

Class News Reporters: Edith Braindle, Don Hazlewood

M — is for the mischief we cause in her class
I — is for the idiotic answers we give
S — is for the stupidity we sometimes show
S — is for the silence she tries to achieve
R — is for the rivalry the class has given her
O — is for the orneryness we all show
S — is for Sheila, Miss Ross' first name
S — is for Miss Ross, our home room teacher

But most of all we appreciate
The learning she imparts
To all of our "angelic" little hearts.

9E Class News

Our class is very different,
As one can plainly see,
When asked the familiar question,
"What would you like to be?"
The answers were quite varied,
From clam-digger to astronaut,
Sponge-diver and pickle-packer,
Easter egg painter and what not.
But on this one important point,
I am sure you will agree,
There are none as reliable,
As the students of

9E

Imagine 9E If:

John K. flunked a subject.
Sylvia S. spoke up in class.
Pat M. said "Hi" to David B.
Marie C. and Liz M. got 80 in math.
Marg G. paid attention in class.
Ralph S. didn't like Carol R.
Sherry R. finished her Home Ec.
Doug S. caused a riot in class.
Shirley D. passed her French.
Joyce P. didn't flirt with Bill S.

Mary T. flunked French.
Dale K. cut her pony-tail.
Sherrilynn M. didn't dye her hair.
Skip G. didn't play basketball.
Mike D. cleaned out his locker.
Tracy S. didn't talk about Billy all the time.
Brian B. didn't wiggle around in math.
Irene H. didn't lend pencils to all the boys.
Irma S. hadn't cut her hair.
Dan K. grew up to be 6'10".
John H. became a wrestler.
Mary Jane D. didn't eat in the science room.
Allan B. had set the science room on fire.
Peter R. and Dennis H. shared a locker.
Janis U. hadn't written this article.

Famous Quotations:

Mrs. Mitchell: Boys, give me your smelly towels and I'll wash them for you.
Mr. McAllister: Silence.
Mr. Gerenda: If I slug my mother-in-law before I leave tomorrow morning, you won't get that history quiz.
Mrs. Gregorian: David, put that exercise on the board. Yes, the one you didn't do.
Mr. Brown: Look at it this way. If I cut an apple in two and gave Priscilla one half and one quarter to Mike, how much will I have left?
John: If Mike gets his hands on it, there won't be any left.

There sleeps a class in Forster High
That makes the teachers continually sigh!
They don't do their homework, they love to debate
Especially when the teachers make a mistake!
Most come in before the last bell is ringing,
But Ken and Bob manage at 9:05 to come in singing.
Then comes science—Oh! What a class,
Even Mrs. Havelock wonders how we pass.
In English sit Maureen, Phyllis and Jackie looking forlorn
And wondering why Shakespeare ever was born.
Mike, Alec and Pat all with their bold remarks,

Have all the teachers sending up sparks.
Wayne, Kim and Dave who are very shy,
Are afraid to look any girl in the eye.
Larry Armstrong surpasses the tallest,
And Jeannie Kulinski is the smallest.
Judy gives her own cute smile,
Only when Joe passes up the aisle.
Pat, Janet and Linda like to converse,
But quiet Ruth and Shirley are just the reverse.
Bryan's homework is always done,
And the kids can depend on Dominic for fun.
As the rains fall Rose's hair is no longer black,
As poor little Pat runs down the track.
Joan and Randy are good in sports,
And John can't find time for his book reports.
Rosemary will get back her money,
To buy Helen an Easter bunny.
Our class 9F is especially rare
And try and beat us—none would dare!

Letter From Germany

The following is an excerpt from a letter by Uta Heine in Münster, Germany. She graduated from Grade 13A here last Spring and is reporting to us from Europe. She will return to Windsor to enter Teacher's College.

". . . The theatre here in Germany is terrific. Everything is brought on the stage from "Porgy and Bess" to "Romeo and Juliet", from "Raisin in the Sun" to operas, and very often, the acting is done by enthusiastic amateurs. Although there are no libraries as we know them, the German readers know more about English and American literature than we know about the German. One wonders, when one sees the over-filled book stores and the busy book stalls. I've found out that I can discuss most of the popular books that I read in Canada with almost any University student here. Most American books appear here soon after they do in the U.S. So do the movies. . . . I've just returned from a trip through the Eifel, The Saarland, Luxembourg, and Holland. After over twenty years, I still saw signs of the last war. In the Eifel, I saw miles of the cone-shaped blocks that stretched across the land to hold off the tanks. Near Malmedy, I visited the graves of about 4,000 unknown soldiers of the nations. Many of the "Bunkers" still exist around there as a warning of the war. Even the houses in some of the villages still show signs of the war, for the walls have many holes in the stucco where the bullets hit. It was pretty grim. . . . I shall go to Paris for about a week in three months. I shall have a chance to stay with some friends there. These are truly Bohemians as all of them are artists and live accordingly. . . .

Yours,

Uta Heine."

A strong sense of duty, readiness to accept responsibility and the ability to lead . . . are some of the qualities required of an officer in Canada's Armed Forces. The development of these leadership qualities in this modern age demands the best in education and training.

The Department of National Defence will sponsor, through the Regular Officer Training Plan (ROTP), a selected number of qualified high school graduates to obtain an education through the Canadian Services

Colleges or through most Canadian universities, leading to a university degree and the Queen's Commission. This training prepares cadets for a career as officers in their chosen service, the Royal Canadian Navy, the Canadian Army or the Royal Canadian Air Force.

There is also a limited entry for those who would choose to obtain higher education at the Canadian Services Colleges at their own expense, and serve after graduation as officers in active components of the Reserve forces.

ROTP

Full details concerning the Regular Officer Training Plan, or entry into the Canadian Services Colleges, as a Reserve cadet, can be obtained without obligation from your nearest Canadian Armed Forces Recruiting Centre or by writing to the Director ROTP, Department of National Defence, Ottawa, Ontario. Closing date for candidates applying for 1962 FALL CLASSES is 1 July, 1962.

REGULAR OFFICER TRAINING PLAN

Investment and Opportunity

Canada needs young men and women of ambition and ability who want to build successful, worth-while careers. Money invested in education, particularly at the university level, offers this opportunity and gives Canada a high return.

Since it began six years ago, the General Motors Canadian Scholarship Programme has created opportunities for students who found lack of sufficient funds all that kept them from a university education. Twenty-five scholarships are awarded each year and, to the present, more than 200 students have received awards ranging in value to $2,000 a year.

The choice of one of 14 universities and of faculty rests entirely with the students and their advisors. The GM Scholarship Programme also provides grants to the universities themselves to help maintain and improve the quality of education.

The seven General Motors companies operating in Canada want to help deserving students develop their capabilities so that they can prepare for an important part in Canada's future.

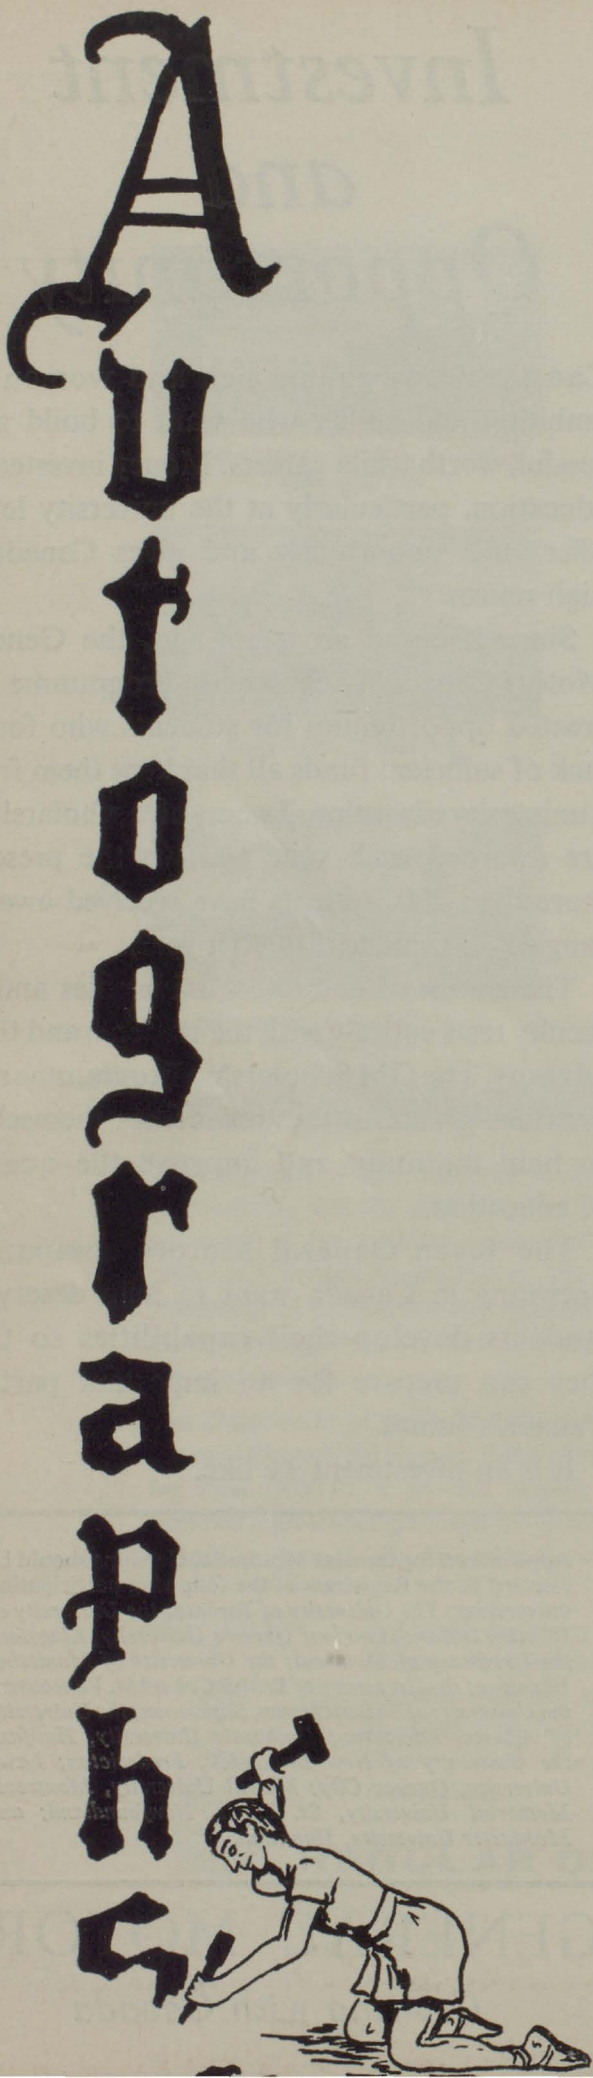

It is an investment we like.

Applications for General Motors Scholarships should be directed to the Registrars of the following participating universities: The University of Toronto; the University of Western Ontario, London; Queen's University, Kingston; the University of Montreal; the University of Manitoba, Winnipeg; the University of British Columbia, Vancouver; the University of Saskatchewan, Saskatoon; the University of Alberta, Edmonton; Dalhousie University, Halifax; the University of New Brunswick, Fredericton; Laval University, Quebec City; McGill University, Montreal; Memorial University, St. John's, Newfoundland; and McMaster University, Hamilton.
